Monterey Park Annexes Area For First Rubbish Dump

MONTEREY PARK, Sept. 14. The Monterey Park City Council today annexed a 320-acre proposed site for Los Angeles County's first major rubbish dump.

City Manager John S. Moriarty said that the incorporation action precluded the county from using the land for a cut and fill dump.

The County Board of Supervisors had earmarked $350,000 in the 1949-50 budget for purchase of the land in the county's move to abate smog by establishing a network of public cut and fill dumps.

Moriarty denied the council's action sought primarily to prevent establishing of the dump but admitted that councilmen would not permit the dump to operate within the city limits.

DUMP SITE ANNEXED BY MONTEREY PARK

MONTEREY PARK, Sept. 13—The City Council today annexed a 320-acre site on which it was reported the county had planned to establish its first major rubbish dump.

Following the action, Mayor James T. Bradshaw, City Manager John Moriarty and City Engineer Willard Steele denied that the 320 acres constitute the entire proposed site for the rubbish dump and also denied they had knowledge of any such county plans for a dump site in the area, until after annexation proceedings had been started. They said no protests were filed at a public hearing on the proposal. It was reported the proposed county site was 100 acres south of Ramona Blvd. and north of Garvey Blvd.

Annexation Defended

Moriarty denied he had said the annexation action precluded the county from using the land for a cut and fill dump and that he had said the Council's action sought to prevent the establishment of a dump here. Mayor Bradshaw said today, however, that he felt sure the Council would not allow such a dump to operate within the city limits.

The County Board of Supervisors, it was reported, had earmarked $350,000 in its 1949-50 budget for purchase of the land in its move to abate smog by establishing a network of public cut and fill dumps.
